Those Mentioned.

BY ROBERT H. WILSON.

Opponents of the highway bond issue and agitators who recently have hurled thinly-veiled accusations against leaders of the bond proponents felt for the first time the force and spirit behind the Georgia good roads movement in the state senate Monday.

Moving to points of personal privilege, the three most powerful officer-holders in the upper house—W. Cecil Neill, president of the senate; Emmett M. Williams, president pro tem, and Shelby Myrick, vice chairman of the rules committee—vigorously denounced insinuations against members of the general assembly and declared it inconsistent with the line of duty to do otherwise than vote to submit the highway bond issue to the Georgia voters.

As a result of the discussions, the senate unanimously adopted a resolution by Senators Smith, Terrell, Vandivier and Zellars expressing confidence in the accused members and "renewing an imputation against their characters or conduct as senators."

Outstanding developments in the house Monday were the statements of Representatives Dykes, of DeKalb, and McWhorter, of Oglethorpe, denying they were selected for bond issue leadership in the house by A. W. McKeand, secretary of the joint committee on highway bonds, as stated in a letter written by McKeand to J. E. Whitley. They arose to points of personal privilege and denounced the letter. The house, by a vote of 100 to 11, expressed confidence in Representatives Dykes and McWhorter.

Another development Monday was the appearance of General Peter Harris, of the United States army, at a session of the house appropriations committee. He spoke in behalf of an annual appropriation of $5,000 to be made by the state to aid the children of war veterans who were killed during the World War.

Senator Myrick, of the first district, took the floor shortly after the senate convened to answer charges that he and three other members of the legislature were guilty of misconduct in leading the highway bond movement made in a letter read before the house of representatives Friday. The senator stated that he had no "concern with the apparent betrayal of confidence" of J. E. Whitley (to whom the letter was addressed) and no concern in the defense of A. W. McKeand (author of the letter).

No Personal Interest.
"I have no political or personal interest in any firm or corporation that might be benefited by any bond issue," he said. He regretted the fact that so progressive a step as the bond

Ready as Costs Is Undecided—Kubala Improves in Azores Hospital.

New York, July 15.—(United News.)—The "Southern Cross," first airplane to span the Pacific, will leave London within the next few days on an attempt to fly the Atlantic; it was announced tonight.

Capt. Charles Kingsford-Smith and C. T. P. Uim, its pilots, said that the recent failure of several other east-to-west attempts had not discouraged them and that, with a little overhauling of their craft, they expected to start for New York as soon as possible.

Word of their plans was received in cabled messages to the Wright Aeronautical corporation. The flyers wanted to know if Wright engineers deemed it advisable to start the flight with their three original Wright Whirlwind engines, the same which propelled the Southern Cross on its memorable flight from Oakland, Calif., to Sydney, Australia, last year.

If it completes its proposed trip to New York and thence to Oakland with the original equipment, it will have accomplished a new feat. The U. S. army's round-the-world flyers changed their motors several times during their journey.

KUBALA IMPROVES FROM INJURIES.
Horta, Azores, July 15.—(P)—Major Casimir Kubala tonight was making rapid recovery from the injuries he received when the airplane Marshal Pilsudski crashed on the island of Graciosa. There was talk today of exhuming the body of his companion, Major Ludwik Idzikowski, who died within a few minutes.

Kubala had gained sufficient strength to describe how they circled over Graciosa on Saturday evening after a long struggle with the strong adverse wind and with a defective motor rapidly becoming useless. He said that flames from the engine at times enveloped the plane and seriously hindered visibility in landing.

They attempted to come down in a big wheat field but the sharp slope caught one wing. Kubala jumped clear just in time. The airplane was almost completely wrecked and Idzikowski died within a few minutes.

Signature to Kellogg
Pact Ties Hands in Dispute With China—Both Nations Prepared.

London, July 15.—(P)—The Mail today prints a dispatch from Riga, Latvia, citing local soviet officials to the effect that the Russian foreign office is discussing a proposal by Maxim Litvinoff, commissar of foreign affairs who is now on leave, that the United States be asked to help settle the railway dispute with China because the Kellogg pact ties the hands of Russia.

It was stated that M. Karakhan, the assistant commissar who has been handling the matter, opposes the proposal of Litvinoff.

The dispatch says military authorities scout the possibility of war, and declare that the general food shortage in Russia would make it impossible to feed a soviet army in the Far East.

3-DAY REPLY LIMIT

EXTENSION SEEN

Moscow, U. S. R. R., July 15.—(P)—A delay in transmission of the soviet note to China on the Chinese Eastern railway question in Manchuria seemed likely tonight to lead to an extension of the three-day limit for a reply.

The foreign office today published a statement from the Chinese representative here notifying them that the note was translated into Chinese on Saturday night and filed by telegram to Nanking with a request to relay it to provincial officials at Mukden, since there was no direct communication. More than 24 hours were thus lost in transmission.

M. Serebriakov, a member of the railroad commissariat, has applied to the Chinese legation here for a visa, but this was said to be withheld under instructions from Nanking. He desired to go to Manchuria to open negotiations on the question.

There was much excitement in Moscow throughout the day; many workers paraded in the streets with red banners and bands blaring revolutionary airs. They carried huge determined stand against "Chinese fascists." All of the demonstrations after the Chinese legation, but there were no disorders.

CHINA PREPARES TO TAKE ACTION.
Shanghai, July 15.—(United News.)—The national government of China, with Chiang Kai-shek back at Nanking, tonight prepared to take action to enforce its ultimatum demanding within three days an agreement for a conference to thresh out differences over control of the Chinese Eastern railway in Manchuria.

The situation remained tense, with considerable military gestures on both sides, but there were numerous indications that a peaceful settlement would be made possible at once.

Developments in the situation today included:

DIVORCED WIFE
OF ATLANTA MAN TO WED AGAIN

New York, July 15.—(P)—The New York American tomorrow will say that friends of Mrs. Basil Miles, widow of the late American administrator of the International Chamber of Commerce in Paris, received word today that she was married to Colonel H. H. Rogers in Zurich, Switzerland, some time last week.

Details of the wedding were not given.

Colonel Rogers is understood to be planning to leave for New York within a few days.

Colonel Rogers and his first wife, Mrs. Mary Benjamin Rogers, were divorced in Utrecht, Holland, June 25, last. They are the parents of Millicent Ramos, the former Countess Sully von Hoogstraten.

This was the third marriage for Mrs. Miles. Her first husband was Lester Morton Savell, an American engineer of Atlanta, Ga., whom she divorced in 1924. She married Basil Miles, of Philadelphia, the following year and he died in 1928.

Mr. Savell, who now is publisher of The Southern Official Record, a trade magazine, lives at 354 Fifth street, with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William B. Savell. The elder Savell is secretary and treasurer of the Loyless Printing Company. Mrs. Miles' marriage to Mr. Savell took place in February, 1918, and the couple lived in the north during the greater part of their married life, although one winter was spent here.

FIVE ARE INJURED
AS BUILDINGS FALL
AT MONTGOMERYDexter Avenue Structures, Weakened by
Blaze, Tumble Into Excavation.

Montgomery, Ala., July 15.—(P)—Working by the light of giant torches, several score rescue workers tonight were tunnelling steadily into a small mountain of debris, all that remains of two downtown business houses following their collapse into an excavation for a new structure early this afternoon, hopeful that if any of the 75 employees of the two stores are still imprisoned they may be reached before it is too late. An excavation for restoration of a building burned last winter was between the two stores.

Hurried checks shortly after the collapse of the buildings, which came in two waves, revealed that a majority, if not all, the occupants of the establishments managed to free themselves during the interval between the first avalanche and the second. Downtown offices were immediately deserted and thousands of persons choked the street in front of the buildings, handicapping police and firemen in rescue attempts.

The other building crushed housed the three-story Dixie building, owned by George DeGruchy, manager of the three-story Dixie department store, the first to cave in. Ruth Anthony, a customer; Mary Brown, negro customer, and two negro employees of the store.

Firemen Caught by Fall.

The building crushed housed the three-story Dixie building, owned by George DeGruchy, manager of the three-story Dixie department store, the first to cave in. Ruth Anthony, a customer; Mary Brown, negro customer, and two negro employees of the store.

Police, firemen and pedestrians rushed to the scene, where they managed to free practically every employee before a second crash descended. Fire Chief Chester L. Ingram and two firemen were trapped in the second floor of the department building, and only by flattening themselves against a portion of the rear wall of the building did they escape with their lives.

Manager Is Injured.

A ninth person trapped on the second floor of the structure was Manager DeGruchy. Mr. DeGruchy said that he was on the third floor when the first cracking noise was made. He raced to the second floor to give aid to the employees who were trapped within three minutes, he said, the walls of the building descended upon him. He was dragged from the wreckage with a broken arm and a fractured shoulder. He expressed the belief that the collapse occurred during the noon hour, when the employees of the stores were at lunch and there was a scarcity of customers. They were responsible for the few casualties.

Although they had not reached every employee, the sales manager of The Bootery, J. H. McDaniels, felt confident that none had been seriously injured. The confusion caused by large crowds that congested the streets up until late in the day prevented an accurate check.

of Group To Solve Agriculture Troubles.

Washington, July 15.—(P)—The federal farm board created by congress after years of dispute assembled today and was charged by President Hoover with responsibility for a solution of America's long standing and vexatious agricultural problem.

At the end of the first day's conference, begun at a meeting with Mr. Hoover in the cabinet room of the White House, the chairman of the board, Alexander H. Legge—a Chicago businessman—announced that "we are going to work long and hard." Saying there were no promises, he expressed hope that the board could organize agriculture to permit application of its work to this year's crops.

Routine Business.

Most of the day was occupied with routine business. Chris L. Christensen, chief of the co-operative marketing division of the department of agriculture, was selected as secretary of the board.

The program of "long and hard" work mentioned by Legge was initiated by employment of office personnel. The chairman said the board would meet tomorrow and indicated little sessions were in order. Little hope for important news announcements was held out, however. The board members were invited to dinner tonight at the White House.

Details of Paper.

The board of education of the city shall be made a body corporate, with power to purchase, hold and sell property of every sort, real and personal; to sue and be sued; to contract and be contracted with, and with power to manage and operate the schools free from the control of the city at large. All members would serve three-year terms as at present.

Fulton County Repre-

Legislature Requested to Fight Proposal.Opposition to Sunday amusements was voiced Monday afternoon by city council when that body voted to request Fulton county representatives in the Georgia assembly to fight a proposal to permit such recreations in cities of Atlanta's size.

P. L. Moon, alderman from the second ward, offered the measure, which immediately precipitated a fight, but he was successful in forcing its passage.

Councilman James L. Wells, of the eighth ward, led a futile battle to table the measure, losing by a vote of 11 to table and 21 against.

Those voting to table the paper were Buchanan, Breitenbuecher, McCutcheon, Barrett, Morris, Hardy, York, Wells, Reynolds and Cobb.

Those voting against tabling were Moon, Huet, Ashley, Gann, Dobbs, Williamson, Millican, Murphy, Leohr, Turner, Rountree, Chosewood, White, Osburn, Moore, Spratt, Cooper, Lyle, Johnson, Smith and Saunders.

Notice that a bill providing Sunday movies, baseball and other amusements would be introduced in the legislature has been published in local papers, Mr. Moon declared.

Alderman Robert E. Gann said that while he did not oppose Sunday baseball, that would be an entering wedge which would force employees to work on that day.

Councilman Wells held that many persons who opposed Sunday amusements belong to exclusive clubs and play golf on Sundays.

"I can see no difference in paying 40 cents to a caddy for a round of golf and in paying 50 cents to see a ball game or a movie," Mr. Wells said.

Provisions Is Viewed as Effort To Defeat Annexation Proposal.

City council, by a vote of 15 to 12, Monday afternoon voted to bar 280,000 Atlantans from a vote on the proposal to extend the city boundaries about 30 square miles and induct approximately 75,000 new citizens, and limited referendum provisions of the extension program to registered voters of affected districts.

Mayor I. N. Ragsdale is expected to veto the paper on the ground that sanction of it would kill any annexation, for which he has staunchly stood for the past several weeks.

The paper was pushed over despite determined effort on the part of annexationists to defeat it and in the face of warnings that it would react to nullify the measure which council approved by an overwhelming vote at its last meeting.

Alderman Ed A. Gilliam and Alderman J. Allen Couch led the futile fight against the referendum change, declaring that council should not be stampeded by the smoke screen which was thrown about the paper as to a democratic vote on the issue. Both claimed proponents of the revision were attempting to push it over in the hope that any reasonable annexation plan would be defeated.

Action of the council was on an amendment offered by Alderman Oscar H. Williamson, of the ninth ward, and Councilman Raleigh Dean, of the ninth, and Councilman H. Turner Leohr, of the second ward.

In addition council voted to exempt the Chevrolet plant, the Atlantic Steel company, the East Lake Golf course and the Armour and Morris Fertilizer company from provisions of the annexation plan which was approved at the last session of council by a vote of 25 to nine.

Those voting for revision of the referendum clauses of the annexation, which as passed at council's last session provided that all eligible voters of Atlanta and affected districts should take part in the balloting, follows:

Claude Ashley, Claude E. Buchanan, Oscar H. Williamson, Everett Millican, H. Turner Leohr, J. W. Rountree, Tom C. Morris, Jack C. Williams.

TWO DEAD, ONE DYING IN WAVE OF SUICIDES

Pistol and Poisons Figure in Atlanta Tragedies—Hotel Guest Found Dead.

Two men took their own lives here Monday, another is in the Grady hospital in a critical condition as the result of what is said to be a self-inflicted poison dose, and a fourth was found dead in a local hotel Monday afternoon.

H. L. Harris, 60, of 128 Church street, Decatur, fired a pistol bullet through his heart while sitting in a swing at Piedmont park Monday morning which brought instant death. He left five notes addressed to various people, one to "the press" requesting that a little publicity be given to the incident. (Corner Paul Donohoe returned a suicide verdict.)

W. C. Pope was found dead in an automobile on Moreland avenue near Paper Mill road Monday morning by DeKalb county police with an empty poison bottle nearby and a note requesting forgiveness for his act.

The body of Charles N. Hodgson, 55, of Athens, was found in a room at a hotel by a maid Monday afternoon and suicide was hinted, but hotel officials stated that he had been ill for several days and that death undoubtedly had come from natural causes.

In Serious Condition.

H. W. Allingham, of Hapeville, still in a serious condition suffering from poisoning. He was taken to the Grady hospital Monday when he was found in a downtown hotel room writhing in agony. He declared that he was out of work and "didn't want to live."

Harris' body was identified as it lay in the funeral home of Harry G. Poole and a note which said "just another failure" is taken as the explanation for his act. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Charles N. Harris, and four children, Mrs. E. L. Harris, Mrs. E. L. Harris, Mrs. E. L. Harris, and Mrs. E. L. Harris.

The deliberate manner in which he had planned his act was evidenced by a letter received Monday morning by W. B. Barton, Decatur realtor, which was mailed at 5 o'clock Monday morning and which informed him that the writer, Harris, would be in "the great beyond" a few hours later. The shooting occurred at 9:20 o'clock Monday morning.

Dead Since Sunday.

While Pope's body was not found until Monday morning, the coroner stated that apparently he had been dead since Sunday. He was said to be between 50 and 60 years of age. In his pockets were found a quantity of money, a gold watch and a diamond ring. A note also was found which said: "Goodbye darling. I am going to leave. God forgive me for what I've done."

He had been married for only a few years and in addition to his wife, he is survived by four children, Mrs. Clyde Pope, his brother, W. A. Pope, and two sisters, Mrs. M. P. Robert, of Atlanta, and Mrs. I. R. Stone, of Chattanooga.

It was formerly employed in the cashier's office of the Georgia Power Company. His body was discovered by E. Southard, county officer.

AGED NEGRO IS SLAIN

Witnesses Are Unable To Describe Slayer.

Henry Sims, 62, negro, of 909 Ira street, was instantly killed shortly after 9 o'clock Monday night while passing a vacant lot adjoining his home, according to police reports.

Witnesses told police that four or five shots were fired and that the flash of the pistol fire could be seen, but due to the rain they were unable to tell whether a negro or white man did the firing.

One of the bullets took effect in the negro's brain, causing instant death, according to police. His body was removed to a local colored undertaker's establishment, while detectives began an investigation of the shooting.

WHITE TO SPEAK TO ROTARY CLUB AT MEETING TODAY

The incandescent electric lamp that Thomas A. Edison invented fifty years ago contained all the fundamentals of present-day marvels of the vacuum tube used in radios, and was the direct forerunner of virtually every electrically operated surgical device, Harry C. White, internationally known author and scientist, declared in an address before employees of the Georgia Power Company Monday.

Mr. White will speak again today before the regular meeting of the Rotary club.

"A number of the things which formed the basis of the lamp turned out by Edison in 1879," the speaker asserted, "differ but little from those used in the radio sets of today." Mr. White displayed a facsimile of the New York Herald of December 21, 1879, containing patent descriptions bearing out his contention that the principal factors of the first electric lamp survive in modern devices.

The lecture was delivered in connection with the world wide observance of "Light's Golden Jubilee," commemorating the invention of the electric light fifty years ago.

RELIGIOUS MIXING IN POLITICS RAPPED

Walther League Speaker
Declares Organization Objects to Practice.

Fort Wayne, Ind., July 15.—(AP)—E. J. Gallmeyer, of Fort Wayne, president of the Walther league, in his address today at the 37th international convention of the youthful Lutherans, declared that the league as a religious organization objects to the constant mixing into state affairs by religious bodies and the effort to use the arm of the state to force an adherence to their viewpoint.

There is constant danger of certain groups forcing their conception of morality into laws and in not only placing them upon our statutes, but writing them into the constitution of our state and nation," he said.

"We as Lutherans believe in regulation through Christian influences and not through a policeman's billy. We view with disfavor the killing of American citizens under the guise of constitutional rights when by these very acts the basic protection which our constitution affords is denied these citizens. We as a religious organization object to the constant mixing into state affairs by religious bodies and the trying to use the arm of the state to force an adherence to their viewpoint."

SOUTHERN CROSS TO DARE ATLANTIC

tribute to his courage and skill during the hazardous westward Atlantic flight.

WILLIAMS, YANCEY
RECEIVED BY KING.

Susto Calende, Italy, July 15.—(AP)—The crew of the trans-Atlantic plane Pathfinder flew here in separate planes this evening. Captain Lewis Yancey arrived on scheduled time but Captain Roger Q. Williams was half an hour late because of having to refuel en route.

Earlier today both had been received by King Victor Emmanuel at San Rossore. They dined tonight with officials of the Marchetti Company and several aeronautical engineers. Tomorrow they will motor to Milan and then fly to Turin.

OCEAN FLIGHTS
BARRED TO SPANISH.

Madrid, July 15.—(AP)—The government announced that Premier Primo de Rivera would approve no airplane flights outside Spain, either trans-Atlantic or European, by Spanish military aviators for eight or nine months to come.

This decision will prevent the proposed air tour of Europe by Captain Jimenez and Captain Iglesias, as well as another trans-Atlantic attempt planned by Major Ramon Franco, who was recently rescued on a similar attempt planned near the Azores.

No explanation for the premier's decision was given, but it is known that Primo thinks that it is best for Spanish aviators to take plenty of time for preparation before trying any further important flights.

NOME FLIGHT
GETS APPROVAL.

Washington, July 15.—(AP)—Secretary Good today approved plans for a flight from Mitchell Field, L. I., Nome, Alaska, by Captain Ross G. Hoyt, army air corps, to begin within the next 10 days.

Captain Hoyt will fly a standard army pursuit plane and fueling will be done at Minneapolis, Edmonton, Alberta, White Horse, Yukon, Fairbanks, Alaska, and thence to Nome.

The total distance of the flight is estimated at 4,200 miles, and will be done in continuous stages with only short stopovers. The date the flight will begin will be announced after fueling arrangements have been made by the army.

Captain Hoyt was the refueling officer for the army airplane Question Mark on its recent endurance flight.

NO MORE TRIALS
THIS YEAR, COSTE.

Paris, July 15.—(AP)—It appeared improbable tonight that Dieudonne Coste would make another attempt to fly across the Atlantic this year. He has not abandoned his plan but asked when it might be carried out he replied laconically today, "There is no hurry."

The backers of the flight, who built the airplane and its motors, have been silent concerning a new attempt which lent support to the growing belief that it was not likely to be in 1929.

Despite his nerve wracking experience on his attempt begun last Saturday, Coste arose early today. He had had only nine hours' sleep in the last 72 hours, during which he had struggled against a dangerous gale of almost hurricane proportions until he regained French soil.

He could not resist the temptation to come to the flying field at Villa Coublay "to have a look at the old bus," as he expressed it. He talked with other pilots of the death of Major Ludwik Idzikowski, Polish aviator.

RIVER PACKETS ON OHIO PLAN TO RESUME RACES

Cincinnati, July 15.—(AP)—A renewal of the historic river packet races of a forgotten day takes place in the Ohio river tomorrow evening in a 20-mile dash upstream from Cincinnati to New Richmond, Ohio, by the stern-wheelers Tom Greene and Betsy Ann.

They race for a gold cup and a resurrected pride in piloting and stoking the antiquated boats to a friendly championship of the river, traditionally an honor among rivermen toward which they pointed their lives. These boats of the latter day races are skippered by the youngest captains on the river. Tom R. Greene, 25, is master of the boat named for him; Frederick Way, Jr., 28, commands the Betsy Ann.

The race is under supervision of government inspectors. Merchants of New Richmond donated the cup. The Chris Greene, sister craft of the Tom Greene, edged the Betsy Ann in the first round of the races last year. Greene said his mother, who holds the only pilot's license on the river issued to a woman, may assist him.

WEALTHY CHICAGO
AUTOIST IS HELD ON ATTACK CHARGE

Chicago, July 15.—(AP)—Charges of assault to murder had resulted today in the indictment of three young Chicagoans, one the son of a millionaire.

The alleged assault was upon Kasper G. Schmidt, son of the city comptroller, George K. Schmidt, and himself vice president of the Prudential State Savings bank.

One of those indicted was John J. (Bud) Corcoran, whose father, the late John J. Corcoran, was the millionaire head of the Washington Construction Company.

The trouble followed a collision between cars in which Corcoran and young Schmidt were riding. Schmidt's story to the state's attorney was that he was beaten by the Corcoran party and left in the road for dead. A girl companion, he said, also was dragged from the car and beaten.

Secret indictments were returned, leading to the arrest late Saturday of Corcoran, Ray Steinberg, and Jack Watson, automobile dealers. The three were held over the week-end.

Schmidt was sought today on charges by Corcoran, who blamed him for the assault.

MACDONALD STEPS INTO BRITISH LABOR BREACH

London, July 15.—(AP)—The Herald, labor party newspaper, tonight states that the ministry of labor has intervened in the Manchester cotton industry dispute which threatened to throw 500,000 workers out of employment. Its officers are in touch with both operatives and employers and are seeking a solution that will avert a lock-out.

Meanwhile the board of trade is arranging an inquiry into the whole problem of the cotton industry. The president of the board is expected to announce the form of the inquiry within a few days.

The federation of master cotton spinners a few days ago voted to enforce a reduction of about 12 percent in wages after July 20. The poor condition of the industry was given as the reason. Representatives of the workers, had declared early in June that a permit attempt to reduce wages would be strenuously opposed.

They were invited to the rostrum by the presiding officer, who quit the chair to fight exclusion of Atlantans from the referendum.

The paper was presented and Mr. Huie attempted to force it on second reading. He failed to muster the required two-thirds majority necessary, although the paper gained sufficient strength to prevent it from being referred to a committee for consideration. It will be before council at its next session.

COL. COX RESIGNS AS HEAD OF 122ND

Pressure of Business Duties Forces Commander To Give Up Place.

Because of the pressure of business duties recently assumed through the management of the estates of his brother and mother, Colonel Charles H. Cox, former adjutant general, has resigned as commander of the 122nd Infantry of the Georgia national guard. Colonel Cox found it impossible to attend the annual encampment of the guard now being held at Camp McClellan, Ala.

"Since I have attended every encampment since 1921 I felt that I was entitled to a leave of absence and made such request to the adjutant general," Colonel Cox said Monday. "The adjutant general declined to grant my request, hence I was forced to tender my resignation, with deep regret."

Colonel Cox served in the World War with the 82nd division and has been active in military affairs in Georgia since the end of the war. He served as adjutant general during the administration of Governor Clifford Walker. He was succeeded in this post by Adjutant General Homer C. Parker, who was appointed to the post by Governor L. O. Hardman.

Colonel Cox is well known among the military officials of the country and has many close personal friends in all sections of Georgia.

"Wonderful Preparation for Varicose Ulcers"

Bangor, Me.—"Some time ago my right leg was in a terrible state where the veins had burst, causing varicose ulcers. Was told I would have to go to the hospital, but I couldn't do that so I tried many different remedies and prescribed treatments, but found no relief. I was very discouraged until I tried Resinol Ointment. I think it is the most wonderful preparation for varicose ulcers, and I wish everyone knew about it. An ulcer is a very stubborn thing to heal, but patience and Resinol Ointment will do the work." (Signed)—

FRUIT BAN CREW REPORTS ALL QUIET ON SOUTHERN LINE

Valdosta, Ga., July 15.—(Special.) Little occurs to vary the daily monotony on the Mediterranean fruit fly quarantine line on state highway No. 7 south of Valdosta. Quarantine inspectors at the camp go through the routine of looking through everything that is to be found in conveyances arriving at the station from Florida points.

In this city a staff of special men with automobiles keep busy patrolling by-roads and looking after any possible evasion of the rules of the government forbidding commodities from crossing the state line. In addition there are special agents engaged in checking up on all shipments of any kind from Florida, making the quarantine perfectly tight and having so far protected Georgia fully from invasion.

LIFE SAVING COURSE OPENED BY RED CROSS

Three-Day School Is Staged at Atlanta Athletic Club.

A three-day school in first aid and life saving, sponsored by the Atlanta chapter, American Red Cross, got underway Monday night at the Atlanta Athletic Club.

The school is a part of a nationwide campaign conducted by the Red Cross in effort to reduce the annual toll of accidental deaths.

The national Red Cross campaign against accidental drownings has been carried to almost every seaside, lake, resort, river, creek and swimming place, with the result that there are now 200,000 men, women and youths who wear the Red Cross life saving insignia, showing that they have completed the intensive course in life saving.

Aiding the work here as field representative of the American Red Cross first aid and life saving service is Ramone S. Eaton, who has been active in this capacity for many years. Mr. Eaton was for some time recreation director of the city of Alexandria, Va., and has had extensive training and experience in Red Cross life saving and first aid methods. Included in his experience of water activities is a 2,000 mile cruise made in a 50-foot power boat, during which he rescued several persons from drowning at various points en route. He has been life guard at various Atlantic seaboard resorts, including Miami, Fla.

FINAL SERVICES ARE CONDUCTED FOR SCHLESINGER

Funeral services for Harry L. Schlesinger, 72, Atlanta manufacturer, who died suddenly Friday at Asbury Park, N. J., were conducted Monday morning at the home, 781 West Peachtree street, by Rabbi David Marx. Private burial rites were held at the family vault in West View cemetery.

A native of Vienna, Austria, Mr. Schlesinger came to this country as a young boy and nearly half a century ago began his residence in Atlanta. Forty-one years ago he founded the Harry L. Schlesinger Company for the manufacture of confections. From modest beginnings he built this plant up until at the time of his retirement, a few years ago, it had attained the high place that it now occupies among southern candy making firms.

In addition to his business acumen and executive ability Mr. Schlesinger was known as a public spirited and able civic leader. Particularly is he remembered for his unselfish and splendid services in furnishing food and supplies for sufferers during various catastrophes, notably the Atlanta fire of 1917 and at the time of the yellow fever epidemic at Brunswick and the tornadoes at Gainesville, many years ago.

New officers of the board of trade will be elected and the season's rules and regulations for selling tobacco on the local market will be adopted. These rules and regulations change from time to time, owing to the changing market conditions.

GOBI EXPEDITION PLANS ABANDONED BY U. S. EXPLORER

West Point Cadet Mysteriously Gone, Sought by Friends

Gunderman, 18 years old, 703 Garbert street, Hollidaysburg, Pa., disappeared from the military academy Friday morning of last week and has not since been heard from either by the authorities or by his parents.

He was dressed in regulation cadet gray.

ATTEMPT TO MURDER LAID TO HARDEGREE

Assault on Revenue Collector While in Discharge of Duty Alleged.

E. L. Hardegree, 1372 Sylvan road, who was given a copy of charges following an altercation with J. J. Griffin, deputy internal revenue collector, June 24, which resulted in Griffin's being confined to a hospital for three days, has been bound over to Recorder Holloway's court on charges of assault with intent to murder, and in United States Commissioner Griffin's court on charges of assaulting a revenue collector while in the discharge of his duty, it was learned Monday.

The amount of bond was $500 in each case and was released when this was posted. The state charge carries a maximum penalty of ten years unless the charge is changed to simple assault, while the federal charge makes him liable to a sentence of one year if he is indicted by the grand jury and convicted.

Charges of disorderly conduct which were placed against Griffin at the time of the altercation were dismissed by the recorder, who placed the blame for the entire incident on Hardegree. The argument which led to the exchange of blows between the two men started when Hardegree tried to draw him into a discussion in regard to the present republican administration and its attitude toward the negro.

Eye-witnesses to the affair were all in agreement that a discussion on politics was responsible for starting the affair and that two men started that from all appearances, both men had made free use of a short iron bar and that when the peace-makers intervened Griffin was grasping the bar in his hand and was being held by Hardegree to prevent its use.

CARAWAY PREDICTS DEBENTURE PLAN AS TARIFF RIDER

Washington, July 15.—(Special.) Senator Caraway, democrat, Arkansas, who has been in his home state during the recess of the special session, said today that the reason there to the tariff bill was that it was an "impending inevitable catastrophe."

Caraway, a leading proponent of the debenture plan, said he was confident the debenture would be tacked onto the tariff measure in the senate and that the house would have to accept it in order to obtain tariff legislation.

"We now have a farm bill that no farmer wants," he said, "and a tariff bill that is all the industrialists could ask for, despite the fact that the special session was called to help the farmer, with tariff as an incident."

NEW ORLEANS STRIKE QUIET; CARS MOVED

Carmen, Awed by Injunction, Watch Service Resumed Without Violence.

New Orleans, July 15.—(Special.)—Awed by the federal injunction, striking motorists and conductors stood by quietly today and permitted a curtailed street car service to be resumed for the first time since July 2.

With non-union men on the front and rear platforms dressed in citizens' clothes and deputy United States marshals standing in the cars with guns, the first cars moved out of the Carrolton bars and went through the streets under a police motorcycle escort.

The first few cars took on no passengers but as the day wore on passengers, including women, began to board and several hundred patronized the cars before they were returned to the barn at dusk.

Fifteen cars operated during the day and United States Marshal Victor Loisel said additional cars would be put into service tomorrow and by the end of the week normal service would be restored. Night service will not be inaugurated, he said, until he is certain they were prepared to provide sufficient protection against possible violence which reached mob height in the first week of the strike, causing two deaths, many injuries and heavy property damage.

Not a single case of violence had been reported to the police today as a result of the operation, the strikers obeying the commands of the chiefs to obey the injunction against interference with the company's property.

Before the first car was started out the marshal lined up his deputies and in earshot of union pickets told them that the entire power of the United States government was behind them and if they met violence they were authorized to use their weapons with deadly effect.

The conductors continued in closed conference but no inkling of an acceptable proposal has emerged from the week's deliberations. The negotiators themselves remain tight-lipped, refusing to say anything for publication.

CLARK BROTHERS, BANK OFFICIALS, ARRESTED

Use of Mails To Defraud and Other Charges Are Preferred.

New York, July 15.—(Special.)—The federal grand jury today handed down two indictments against James Rae Clarke, Hudson Clarke, Jr., Phillip Clarke, and John F. Bouker, partners in the defunct banking firm of Clarke Brothers.

One of the indictments charged conspiracy to conceal assets in bankruptcy and the other using the mails to defraud.

Both contained conspiracy counts. The mail fraud indictment containing 12 counts in all superseded a mail fraud bill returned by the grand jury last week and sets forth charges against the defendants in much greater detail.

The indictment charging concealment set forth that the defendants fraudulently transferred property to persons not named. It also alleged that the firm carried on its books entries purporting to show an investment of $1,300,000 in the Georgia Fullers' Earth Company, of which Bouker is president, whereas the amount actually invested was not more than $157,000.

The indictment charged that when the concern knew it was insolvent it accepted deposits with the intent to appropriate the money deposited to the benefit of the defendants.

FINED, ENRAGED WOMAN SHOTS UP COURTROOM

Chicago, July 15.—(P)—A precipitous descent from his courtroom bench and speedy exit into his chambers was believed today to have saved the life of Judge John F. Hane, target for the revolver of an irate woman he ruled against in a $1,000 judgement case.

After firing in the corridor at Attorney Morris I. Kaplan, who received the judgement, Mrs. Ida But turned back into the municipal court and cut loose with her revolver there.

At the first shot, Judge Hane leaped from his chair and slammed the door to his private room just as Mrs. But drew up in front of it, waving her revolver.

An attorney knocked the revolver from the woman's hand and she was overpowered.

Noted Flier Visits Candler Field

Clarence Chamberlin, who won glory as a successful trans-Atlantic flier, with three friends Monday paid a fleeting visit to Atlanta. The Constitution photographer caught them at Candler field standing before the special Crescent monoplane, in which Chamberlin has been making an aerial survey for the Eastern Air Express, Inc., a company for which he is operations manager. The famed pilot of the monoplane "Columbia" is second from the left. At his right is Warren W. Lewis, vice president of the General Aero Corporation, while on his left are H. A. Schoenhals, an aerial photographer, who has been assisting Chamberlin in his survey, and George Byrne, sales manager for the Crescent.

Clarence D. Chamberlin, famous aviator and trans-Atlantic flier, was Atlanta's brief visitor Monday morning, arriving here a few minutes before 10 o'clock at the controls of his Crescent Monoplane, a new "fool-proof" ship which embodies many of his own ideas as to design and construction. Chamberlin, who visited Candler Field on his return flight to New York, following a survey of the airway from New York to Miami, arrived here from Tampa in three hours and 45 minutes, bringing George Byrne, sales manager of the Crescent Aircraft Corporation, Warren W. Lewis, vice president of the General Aero Corporation, and H. A. Schoenhals, aerial photographer. Chamberlin, in addition to his affiliation with the Crescent company, is operations manager of Eastern Air Express, which plans to open a New York-Florida line in October.

Chamberlin demonstrated his Crescent, which is an eight-place cabin job, powered with a J-5 Whirlwind of 225 horsepower, to a party of Atlantaans whom he took up as passengers. These included Beeler Blevins and Doug Davis, Candler Field fliers; E. F. Dieter, president of the Atlanta chapter of the National Aeronautic Association, and Mrs. Dieter. All enjoyed the short flight and the local pilots were most favorably impressed with the flying qualities of the new plane, especially its responsiveness to the controls and its landing speed of 40 miles an hour. It is extremely compact, containing a surprising amount of space for a comparatively short fuselage, and in its general contour looks not unlike the Bellanca, in one of which Chamberlin successfully negotiated his non-stop flight to Germany. The Crescent production jobs will go on the market powered with a J-6 300 horsepower Wright, which will make possible a top speed of around 140 miles an hour.

The noted flier was reticent regarding the possibility of Atlanta's selection as a stop on the proposed New York-Florida line, although it is understood that an interesting announcement may be forthcoming shortly after Chamberlin's return to New York. There also is some likelihood that a Candler Field site will be chosen for a branch of the Clarence Chamberlin Flying School as well as an assembling plant for the distribution of Crescent planes, although no definite decision on these projects has been reached.

Inspector Murray Hall, of the department of commerce, will take off early this morning in the government's J-5 Travel Air for Birmingham, where he will investigate the fatal crash which took place there Sunday when an open-cockpit plane fell from a low altitude, burning one passenger to death and injuring another passenger and the pilot.

Inspector Hall returned late last week from Langley Field, Virginia, where he had five hours of dual instruction in tri-motored planes, now necessary because of the department of commerce's new regulation which will issue three grades of transport licenses to pilots. Inspector Hall started upon his return that he had been given three hours' time in the "Question Mark" army tri-motored Fokker, of endurance record fame.

the chamber the measure would not have been approved, it was said.

Hurling a series of charges and counter-charges, opponents questioned the good faith of each other in a heated debate on the measure.

Councilman Saunders declared that Alderman Couch's attitude on the measure caused him to doubt Couch's good faith in presenting the first measure.

This precipitated a speech by Couch in which the latter declared he had offered the measure in the very best faith possible as the fairest, most equitable and best annexation paper which council had considered.

"I never conferred with any one when I drew the measure," Mr. Couch said. "I offered it because I believed it was the best one offered to council and also because I believed it would pass. If we keep on amending it we will prevent any annexation program from passing."

MOORE'S PLAN REJECTED.

Alderman Gann spoke against the restricted referendum, and proponents of the revised referendum scheme declined to agree to a separate vote to East Point, College Park and Hapeville, incorporated municipalities, on a proposition of Councilman Moore that he would support such a measure, but would not exclude Atlantans from a vote as to other outlying districts.

A notice of reconsideration of an appropriation of $150 to advertise the first annexation paper passed in council was not insisted on by Councilmen York and Wells at Monday's session, and the measure went to the aldermanic board for approval. The board sanctioned it, but Alderman Williamson served another notice of reconsideration, which automatically holds the paper up until the next regular meeting of the board, August 5.

Dr. W. F. Wells, of Hapeville, spoke to council, which went into the

ATLANTA FREED OF BLAME IN AUTO DEATH AT AUGUSTA

Augusta, Ga., July 15.—(Special).—Morris R. Adler, of Atlanta, Monday was exonerated by a coroner's jury of blame in connection with the death of Robert L. Jones, Wagner, S. C., who was fatally injured early Saturday night when struck by an automobile driven by Mr. Adler. The accident happened near the Richmond and Columbia county lines.

The verdict of the coroner's jury said the accident was unavoidable. Sherman Newman, companion of Jones, who was walking along the road with him when the accident occurred, said Mrs. Adler apparently was blinded by the light of an approaching automobile and unable to see the pedestrian until nearly upon him.

Mr. Adler swerved his car sharply to the left in an attempt to miss the pedestrian, Newman said. The automobile crashed into a guard rail, badly damaging the machine. Mr. Adler then sent Newman to notify the employers of Jones and brought Jones to the University hospital, sent a physician to see him and then reported the accident to police headquarters.

SWEDISH FLIERS FAIL IN DOUBLE TRY TO TAKE OFF

Ivigtut, Greenland, July 13.—(P)—The Swedish fliers, Captain Albin Ahnberg and his two companions, have made two attempts in two days to get off for New York but each time a leaky pontoon balked them.

The first attempt was yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock when the right pontoon was found to be leaking. It was repaired but the start was postponed again today when the left pontoon developed a small leak as the machine was pushed into the water preparatory to a 5 a. m. take-off.

The fliers were a trifle depressed at their persistent ill luck but Captain Ahnberg said: "Even if we don't get off before Christmas, get off we must."

The South Fulton Citizens' League, standing for a greater Atlanta, greater South Fulton and a greater Georgia, issued a pamphlet declaring that the local politicians of East Point, College Park and Hapeville who are insisting on a separate referendum on annexation are overlooking the fact that the total vote of the three municipalities cast in the referendum in 1925 was about three to one in favor of the measure.

Pamphlets issued in College Park pointed out that nothing has happened to change the attitude of the people since that vote was taken.

Take Fight to Mayor.

Attacking the move as an effort to kill annexation and declaring that its passage meant disfranchisement of their own constituents in favor of a few favored citizens who live in affected areas, proponents prepared to take their case to the mayor this morning.

Mayor Pro Tem Robert F. Pennington has been in the chair for the past 10 days while Mayor Ragdale has been taking a short rest, but will return to his office this morning, it was announced.

Opponents of the revised referendum measure lacked only one vote of being able to table the measure, the vote being 13 to table and 14 to force a vote on the issue. When the measure itself came up for a vote, annexation proponents lost J. W. Rountree, councilman from the third ward, who had been a staunch advocate. Other than Mr. Rountree's vote the vote on the measure itself was the same as the vote to table had stood.

committee of the whole to hear him, in the interest of a separate referendum for Hapeville, East Point and College Park. He urged council not to destroy the entity of the three governments without giving the people affected a separate vote as to whether they wished to make the change.

Advantages Shown

Taxes would be cheaper if the three municipalities were merged; unification of governments would save hundreds of thousands of dollars to taxpayers; the cities would get the benefits of Atlanta water, sewerage and better light and gas rates, according to the South Fulton circular.

The people of the whole state voted on a constitutional amendment giving Fulton county commissioners the right to tax all property in Fulton county for maintenance of the Fulton county school system and Atlanta is paying that tax now, those who issued the circular set out.

Councilman Morris offered a paper to discontinue sale of water to non-residents of Atlanta after January 1, 1930, but it was tabled by a vote of 22 to one—Mr. Morris being the only member of council to insist on a vote on the paper.

The Morris measure was offered as a retaliatory move after the referendum measure had carried in council.

DePriest White House Tea Barred End of 'Solid South,' Ernest Camp Tells Group

Hoover's Failure to Give South Share of Patronage Also Seen Cause of Political Welding.

Athens, Ga., July 15.—(AP)—The death of the "solid south" as a political unit has been postponed, at least temporarily, by the White House entertainment of Mrs. Oscar DePriest and "President Hoover's failure to give the south its share of patronage," Ernest Camp today told the institute of public affairs.

Speaking at the University of Georgia the former head of the Georgia Press Association declared that he had hoped that the last campaign would break up the democratic stronghold in the south and would mark the beginning of a "new era."

Mr. Camp said that a private survey of the election results had shown him, much to his surprise, that the "wettest" Georgia counties were carried by Hoover or the normal democratic majorities greatly reduced.

Judge Blanton Fortson, of Athens, presided at a forum discussion of the effects of the 1928 election on southern political life.

The jurist said that in his opinion the history of the democratic party showed that whenever the party stood by its traditional principles it had won and that it had been defeated only when it deserted these political concepts.

Diversified Politics.

Lawton B. Evans, superintendent of Richmond county schools, told the forum that while he had voted for Governor Smith he felt that it would be better for the south to stop thinking about itself in terms of the past and to strive for diversified politics.

The opinion of several other speakers was that the racial issue in the south had declined in importance and was no longer a factor in determining party allegiance.

The speakers included Dr. John Morris, Dr. R. P. Brooks, Dan McGill, Professor M. H. Bryan, of the university; Mrs. C. A. Vernon and Mrs. Joseph Campbell, Athens.

Dr. Andrew M. Soule addressed the institute earlier in the day and discussed the effects of the 1928 election on southern political life.

Constipation and Biliousness Cause High Blood Pressure

If Alertox Fails—Call a Doctor

High blood pressure is both functional and organic, often produced by over-eating or mental strain, while constipation and biliousness are underlying causes. In either case, Alertox, a new chemical discovery, through a process of elimination, corrects all toxic conditions and tends to reduce pressure in the veins and arteries by carrying out, through the intestinal tract, excess water in the system which the sweat glands have failed to secrete.

After the first dose or two of Alertox you note a decided improvement in reduced blood pressure, also in your general health, because Alertox removes, in one action, more poison bile from the system than any other known formula, leaving you buoyant, vivacious and alert. explored the system under which 57 per cent of southern farms are now being operated by tenants. The president of the State College of Agriculture described the system as "exceedingly wasteful."

Dr. Soule said that southern prosperity would be greatly enhanced if agriculture obtained a fair share of the wealth which it created through the production of raw materials.

M. Lechartier, French editor and author, in an after-luncheon speech, declared that in his opinion the Kellogg peace pact would solve the age-old question of freedom of the seas, provided teeth were put into it. Such teeth, he believed, might be inserted by use of the Capper resolution in the United States senate, whereby the United States would renounce trade with belligerents during war.

He praised the work of Dr. James T. Shotwell, American historian and political authority, in bringing about certain peace negotiations between France and America.

Dr. Lechartier's after-luncheon speech substituted for his address previously scheduled for tonight.

Rainfall Slated To Fall Today, Forecast Says

Jupiter Pluvius stands at least an even chance of crashing through with a bit of a thundershower some time before sundown today, according to the official forecast of C. F. von Herrmann, local meteorologist, who states that conditions are practically normal for this time of year.

If the threatened precipitation materializes, there will be a slight reduction in the temperature figures, he thinks. Sunday's maximum of 90 was just about equalled Monday afternoon and the bottom figure Monday morning was 70.

A check-up on the rainfall total for the month revealed that only .56 of an inch has been recorded since the first of the current month as against a normal for the period of approximately 2.30. All indications point to a rather dry July, Mr. von Herrmann thinks, with the mercury remaining in the neighborhood of normal figures.

$100 AIR MAIL AWARD IS LAUDED BY N. A. A.

Constitution's Plan To Reward Pilot Commended in Resolution.

Officers and directors of the Atlanta chapter of the National Aeronautic Association Monday adopted a resolution commending the plan of The Constitution to award $100 to the air mail pilot performing the most meritorious service during the remainder of this year. The action was taken at the bi-monthly meeting of the organization at the Chamber of Commerce building.

Among the guests present was Alpha A. Fowler, representative to the legislature from Douglas county and chairman of the house aviation committee. Called upon for a few seconds, Mr. Fowler declared it his intention to protect the aviation industry to the full extent of his power by blocking all legislation which might hamper its progress and by sponsoring all bills which would tend to promote its interests.

W. A. Dunlap, of the Atlanta office of the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce, was appointed secretary, R. S. Fleet, who formerly held this position, having found it impossible to continue in this capacity.

The resolution regarding The Constitution's $100 award was unanimously adopted and commended the idea as a laudable plan which undoubtedly would have a most beneficial effect in sponsoring the development of public interest in aviation.

Harry O. Mitchell, general chairman of the "All-Georgia Air Tour," made a report on the preparations going forward to insure the success of the undertaking and stated that all would be in readiness for the take-off next Monday morning.

HUSBAND STARTS FIGHT IN COURTS FOR LITTLE GIRL

Charges that his wife was persuaded to leave his home with their child because his sister-in-law desired to gain custody of the baby, and that his wife and daughter are held in confinement and restraint at the home of the defendant are contained in a habeas corpus petition filed Monday in Fulton superior court by J. H. Pierce, of 791 Primrose, S. E. The plaintiff alleges that Mrs. Ray Murphy, of 751 Boulevard, N. E., sought custody of the child, "since she has no children of her own."

Judge Edgar E. Pomeroy signed an order requiring Mr. and Mrs. Ray Murphy to produce Joyce, Pierce, 2-1-2, in court on July 17 to answer the complaint filed by Pierce. The plaintiff alleges that Mrs. Murphy is poisoning the mind of Mrs. Pierce against him. The petition was filed by Attorney Vester M. Owenby.

ACCUSERS OF FOUR LEGISLATORS ASSAILED

Issue was being "kicked around" as a political football, and stated that he has been a supporter of a good roads program for many years. The text of his speech is printed in another column of The Constitution.

Senator Williams declared that in 20 years of public life he had never known a man who was so much interested in the question of the people as he was.

President Neill, who relinquished the speaker's rostrum temporarily to Senator J. A. Smith, was in the foreground of the speaker in referring to the letter of Mr. McKeand and in his remarks relative to highway bonds.

Testifies to Integrity. "As presiding officer of this senate," he declared, "I want with all force to testify to the integrity and honesty of character and purpose of the senators whose names have been used in connection with the letter. Knowing them as I do from long legislative experience, I consider it a duty to resent the use of their names in this matter."

Passing to the question of highway bonds, President Neill came almost unqualifiedly for the project. He declared that although in the light of recent developments "the wind may appear to be blowing against them, they (the proponents of highway bonds) ought to stand true on the principles in which they believe."

The president said that he had been co-author of the first highway bond bill years ago in the assembly and that if such a method had been adopted "Georgia would be different and the highway question would have been solved."

He believed that on a fundamental question of this kind the right measure is to submit it to the people.

House Votes Confidence. Almost the entire house session Monday was devoted to a discussion of the disclosures made by A. W. McKeand, secretary of the joint committee for highway bonds in a letter to J. E. Whitley, LaGrange contractor, which was read in the house Friday.

Representative E. B. Dykes and Representative Hamilton, whose names were mentioned in the McKeand letter as "bond leaders in the house" and through an interpretation of the letter were said to represent the joint committee which had in charge raising a budget of $9,750 for publicity and entertainment purposes were given a sweeping vote of confidence by the house. A resolution voting confidence in the two members introduced by Representative Rosser was passed by a vote of 163 to 1.

The only vote against the measure was cast by Representative Moody, of Troup county, who expressed his vote by saying he did not believe there was anything to the disclosures made in the letter and there was no necessity for passing a resolution.

Representatives Dykes and McWhorter arose to points of personal privilege and the debilitation of the McKeand letter. Several members of the house opposed to bonds also denounced the letter and expressed confidence in the two members named. Among the anti-bond advocates who spoke in behalf of the resolution were Representatives Rosser, Hinson, and Hamilton.

Without plenty of rich, red blood there could be no strong, sturdy, powerful men, or healthy, beautiful women.

General Peter C. Harris Guest of Georgia Solons

BY PAUL STEVENSON.

General Peter C. Harris, former adjutant general of the United States and brother of United States Senator William J. Harris, was a distinguished visitor at the capitol Monday, appearing before the house appropriations committee in behalf of a measure designed to aid children of soldiers who were killed in the World War.

General Harris spoke briefly before the committee and outlined the provisions of the bill he is sponsoring. It provides an appropriation of $2,000,000 a year by the state. There are 360 children in Georgia who would receive benefits from the measure. The American Legion and the woman's auxiliary are co-operating in the movement, according to General Harris.

Under the bill the state would give $120 a year to a child of a dead veteran and the federal government would provide $150 a year in defraying expenses at any Georgia institution to be selected by the child of the veteran. The money would be available when the child reaches the age of 18. Under this plan the $3,000 annual appropriation would take care of those children who have passed the age of 18 and each year a new group would become eligible for the benefits. Other children who spoke in support of the bill were Homer C. Watkins, Atlanta; Mrs. James Maddox, Rome; Mrs. Horace Holden, Athens; and A. L. Henson, of the American Legion.

Back From Convention. General Harris has just returned from a convention of the legion held at Brunswick and is now on his way to the annual meeting of the American Legion at Danville, Va.

Discussing his plan for aiding children of dead veterans, General Harris said that the legion was planning to assist in the education and vocational training of the children of the fallen soldiers. The plan was to provide for the education of the children of the fallen soldiers.

ROBBIE, MESSENGER CATCHES ONE BANDIT

Pair Escape With $45,000
After Wounding Bystander in Gun Fight.

Hollywood, Cal., July 15.—(AP)—After he was held up by three men on Hollywood boulevard today and robbed of $15,000, M. Crowley, bank messenger, disregarded a command to surrender, and put up a fight which resulted in his capturing one of the robbers.

The man captured gave the name of Lawrence McMillen, 27. In an exchange of shots between the messenger and the hold-up men, James Thorpe, 23-year-old Mormon missionary who was standing near the scene of the robbery, was slightly wounded.

A few minutes after Crowley had left the Chinese theater, one of the largest motion picture houses in the film colony, the men approached him with drawn revolvers. He had collected Sunday's receipts from several theaters. Disregarding a command to surrender, Crowley threw the bag in search of a automobile and attempted to draw his own gun.

The hold-up men fired at Crowley but missed. One of the men then leaped to the ground and took the bag of money and ran. Crowley pursued and captured McMillen and turned the bag over to the police.

Thorpe was taken to a hospital where it was said his wound was minor. He was standing in the center lobby of the theater when hit. A few minutes later the robbery party of Ohio tourists, telephone police that two men resembling those who robbed Crowley dashed off in a near-by automobile and attempted to draw his own gun.

"Insinuations" Denounced In Senator Myrick's Speech

The complete text of Senator Shelby Myrick's speech before the Georgia state senate Monday defending himself and three other legislators against recent accusations is as follows:

"On last Friday there appeared in my early afternoon edition of an Atlanta newspaper a letter written by A. W. McKeand, secretary of the Atlanta Automobile Association, to J. E. Whitley, a contractor of LaGrange, Ga., in which my name and the names of Senator E. M. Williams, of this body, and Representatives E. B. Dykes and Hamilton McWhorter, of the house were mentioned.

"In the same issue of that newspaper there was an article commenting on the disclosures in this letter and that article in my opinion carried insinuations and innuendoes designed to reflect in a very unfavorable light upon the character and integrity of the four named members of this general assembly. Had the letter of Mr. McKeand not been officially read in the house of representatives with comments thereon by a member of that body, I would have been disposed to have ignored not only the letter but any newspaper articles pertaining to it.

"But inasmuch as it was officially recorded in the house we deemed it proper to issue a joint statement, which has been published in every daily paper in this state and with which I assume each member of this body is by this time familiar. I desire to supplement that statement, however, with a few remarks to this senate.

Denies Insinuation. "I have no concern with the condemnation of Mr. Whitley, who apparently after contributing to this fund for six months, suddenly betrayed a confidence, nor with the defense of Mr. McKeand, who has stated that the fund was being raised for public safety purposes. But I am concerned in what appears to be an effort to insinuate that in urging bond measures in the general assembly for highway purposes, I and these other gentlemen were actuated by improper motives and that we were connected either directly or indirectly with some plan to use money in the general assembly as in the passage of these measures.

"At the outset I desire to denounce as false and cowardly any insinuation or intimation that I had or have ever had any connection with any person or organization to use money in any way or to do anything improper in anywise in connection with the effort to pass a bond measure for highway improvement in this legislature.

"I have never been selected by any body at any time to introduce any measure here on this important subject. I have been a free lance entirely, having my own views and my own ideas as to how this proposition should be presented to the general assembly. I have not the slightest interest, personal or political, in the outcome of any bond measure in the legislature. I am not a prospective candidate for any office in this state, and never expect to be again. I do not represent now, nor have I ever represented, in any capacity whatsoever any person, firm or corporation, who might be in the slightest interest during all that time no person has ever suggested or even intimated that my course of conduct here or elsewhere was in the slightest degree influenced by any improper motive. And nothing that any person or any newspaper may openly or in veiled or insinuating way say against me is going to deter me in the slightest from advocating what I think is right or from denouncing or opposing what I think is wrong.

Facilitation of Business. "I shall never press my advocacy of any measure nor my opposition to any bill in this honorable body, however, to the extent that it will either impede, interfere with or block other business. I feel that I have a high duty here, particularly in the position I now hold, to facilitate needed legislation and to help every member not only of the senate, but of the house, likewise, to obtain a fair and impartial hearing in this senate of the measure or measures he advocates.

"I am now done with the McKeand letter as well as any political statements in any newspaper here or elsewhere about any legislative fund to aid the highway bond measure or any dirty and contemptible insinuation that I or any of the other worthy gentlemen mentioned are connected with it."

Georgia Dry Killing Goes to Grand Jury. Buchanan, Ga., July 15.—(AP)—Charges that Constable Luke Ballenger fatally wounded Grady Phillips, 25-year-old sawmill worker, at Tallapoosa several weeks ago when the officer was hunting for a car in his automobile, were presented to the Tallapoosa grand jury here today.

Solicitor-General Ragsdale, of the Tallapoosa circuit, said that testimony of witnesses will not be completed before tomorrow and that a report from the jury is not expected until then.

Phillips died a few minutes after being wounded by a shot that was fired from the back of the car by Ballenger. At the preliminary hearing the officer testified that residents of the Corinth district had complained of disorderly conduct on the part of Phillips and his companions, and he said he suspected them of transporting liquor.

Ballenger's command to halt was ignored, he said at the preliminary hearing, and he testified he fired one shot at the fire of the passing automobile. A search of the car revealed no liquor.

At the preliminary hearing the constable was grand juror J. B. Edwards, of the Tallapoosa circuit.

A GOOD Refrigerator, well iced, requires no Charcoal box or other deodorant to keep the air pure and sweet or to absorb food odors. The melting Ice causes a constant circulation of cold, moist air that carries all odors and impurities off through the drain pipe.

The use of deodorants is recommended by those selling electric refrigerators. They are entirely unnecessary if you use Ice. And Ice, in a good refrigerator, will maintain a temperature well below fifty degrees.

ALABAMA JURY WINS RIGHT TO BANK PROBE

Case of Extreme Expediency Established, Judge Decides in Ruling for Inquiry.

Birmingham, Ala., July 15.—(AP)—A Jefferson county grand jury emerged victorious today in the first conflict of record in this state between an inquisitorial body and a presiding circuit judge and tomorrow will proceed with an investigation into the cause of five state banks closing in this district within the past three weeks.

Declared in recess before the investigation had started by Circuit Judge J. Russell McElroy, today the grand jurors elected to appeal the order to Chief Justice John C. Anderson of the Alabama supreme court, resulting in an order to McElroy to "reconvene this grand jury at once for the consideration of grave and serious matters involving perhaps violations of criminal laws."

The recess order was issued by Judge McElroy after Charles Rice, attorney for C. E. Thomas, state superintendent of banks and Horace C. Wilkinson, liquidating agent for the Woodlawn Savings bank, had pleaded for a postponement on the grounds that sufficient time had not elapsed for completion of reports on affairs of the closed banks as demanded by the grand jury subpoenas. Over the protest of Attorney General C. C. McCall, and County Solicitor George Lewis Bailey, Judge McElroy held that Rice and Wilkinson had established a case of "extreme expediency" and ordered a recess until August 23. S. Jones Price, foreman, immediately asked and was granted permission for a special session of the grand jury. This was devoted to a conference between the inquisitorial body, McCall and Bailey with the decision to appeal to Justice Anderson being announced when they returned to the court room.

KING PROGRESSES AFTER OPERATION

Physicians Declare Condition Satisfactory Following Third Operation.

London, July 15.—(United News)—King George was resting comfortably tonight after undergoing the third operation on his right chest since he became seriously ill last autumn. The king withstood the operation remarkably well although portions of two ribs were removed in order that the abscess in his chest may drain more freely. Seven physicians were in attendance. Sir Hugh Higgby and Dr. Wilfred Trotter performed the operation in the king's bedroom at Buckingham palace.

After the operation the following bulletin was issued: "An operation on his majesty has been performed. A portion of two ribs has been removed in order that a circumscribed abscess one and one-half inches across should be directly drained and treated. The condition of his majesty is satisfactory."

(Signed) STANLEY HEWETT, "HUGH M. HIGBY," "WILFRED TROTTER," "FRANCIS SHIPWAY," "DAWSON OF PENN." Later an official announcement said the king's progress tonight was "entirely satisfactory."

DEPRIEST TO OFFER ELECTION LAW BILL

Negro Congressman Would Put All Elections Under Federal Officers.

Chicago, July 15.—(AP)—Introduction in congress of a federal election law bill is promised by Oscar De Priest, negro representative at Washington from Illinois.

In his first speech in Chicago on national racial questions since his election to congress De Priest told a negro audience last night his proposed bill would put national elections in the hands of government election boards. De Priest was introduced as the lone representative in Washington of the 12,000,000 negroes in the United States.

"I am fighting," said De Priest, "not for social equality but for equality under the law. The prosperous colored folks in the north must rescue the disfranchised black peons of the south before we can say the negro of America is free."

"I am going to continue my tour through the south, notwithstanding threats I have received. I'm going to try to teach the colored people of their rights under the constitution."

HOLD-UP MEN GET $17 FROM YOUTH AT COLLEGE PARK

East Point, Ga., July 15.—(Special)—A black eye, an empty pocket and a chainless watch were all that was left to Raymond Thompson, 18, of 40 Main street, College Park, after a pay day encounter with two negro holdup men early tonight near his home. He was robbed of $17, he reported to police.

Thompson was walking toward his home after leaving the automobile of a friend, when two negroes armed with a knife and a pistol stepped out of the shadows and commanded him to hold up his hands. Almost simultaneously one of the negroes crashed his fist into the youth's eye, knocking him to the ground. The thugs rifled his pockets and snatched at his watch but got only the chain.

END OF RACE TROUBLES AT NORTH PLATTE SEEN

Governor Demands Safe Return of Negroes to Homes After Rout by Mob.

North Platte, Neb., July 15.—(AP)—With Governor Arthur Weaver demanding the safe return to the city of negroes driven out by a mob late Saturday and Attorney General C. A. Stevenson starting an investigation into the racial disturbances, authorities here tonight expected no further trouble as the refugees returned to the city.

The city's entire negro population of 200 was driven out of town by an infuriated mob after one of their number had shot and killed Edward Green, a policeman. The killer, Louis Seaman, surrounded by the mob in his home, committed suicide.

Several negroes returned late yesterday and more were coming into the city tonight. Governor Weaver ordered State Sheriff N. C. Condit to take charge of the situation and to have sent Lloyd Dort, assistant attorney general, to conduct an investigation.

Would Prosecute Case. The attorney general informed local authorities he would "prosecute the case to the limit." He indicated some arrests might be made immediately.

In issuing his order to North Platte officials, Governor Weaver said: "All negro residents of North Platte must be permitted to return and must be assured of immunity from any recurrence of the Saturday outbreak."

Sheriff A. J. Salisbury and Chief of Police James Dorrman declared every effort was being made to prevent any violence.

To Protect Negroes. "It is our duty to protect all citizens," the sheriff said, "and we will protect all negroes who return to the city."

A large number of citizens have been deputized to assist police officers. Although the mob swarmed through the negro section Saturday, no violence was done and the negroes were permitted to leave the city unharmed.

POINCARÉ PLEA FOR DEBT ACCORD TO BE CONCLUDED

Paris, July 15.—(AP)—The French parliament tomorrow will resume consideration of ratification of the debt accord. Premier Poincaré, resuming his plea for ratification of the Mellon-Berger accord, was expected to conclude his three-day speech before noon, when he would demand that parliament throw out the text proposed by the finance committee calling for reservations.

The premier probably will then indicate what form of ratification the government is willing to accept. His point has been that there must be no reservation or qualification in the text itself. At the same time he might accept reservation as the object of a separate bill.

FLORIDA CITY DEFIES STATE GAS TAX LAW

West Palm Beach Commission Refuses to Pay Tax On Own Gas.

West Palm Beach, Fla., July 15.—(AP)—The city commission of West Palm Beach late today voted to advise the state of Florida, through the comptroller Ernest Amos, that it will not pay a five-cent tax on gasoline purchased for its own use as required of all municipalities by a law passed at the recent session of the legislature and signed by Governor Doyle E. Carlton. This law is known as House Bill No. 170.

The commission based its action on an opinion rendered by City Attorney J. Mark Wilcox, in which the attorney held that the law is unconstitutional. The attorney advised the commission that the tax must be either a license levy or a property levy, and that either would be unconstitutional, since the city does not sell gasoline and therefore need not pay a license and is exempted by the state constitution from paying a property tax.

The commission authorized City Manager A. E. Parker to advise the comptroller of the city's stand, and to request that any further communication on the matter be taken up with the city manager through Attorney-General Fred H. Davis. The commission indicated that it would take the matter into courts rather than pay the tax without making an attack on the constitutionality of the law. The city estimated that it would save $7,000 annually.

DRY LAW ENFORCER FACES ASSAULT TO KILL CHARGES

Tullahoma, Tenn., July 15.—(AP)—Bruce H. Ashburn, federal prohibition posseman, will be given preliminary hearing here tomorrow on a charge of assault with intent to commit murder in connection with the shooting Saturday of Edwin Smith, 22.

He has notified Sheriff Bud Landrum that he will be here tomorrow accompanied by A. V. McLane, federal district attorney, and W. B. Shofner, deputy prohibition administrator. Ashburn has been in Nashville since the shooting. McLane and Shofner live in Nashville.

Smith was shot as he and three companions sped over a highway in Coffee county. Ashburn and the two federal prohibition officers who were with him alleged that the young men had liquor in their car when the chase started and that the whisky was poured out as the officers cornered them.

Formal Introduction of New 'Micro-Synchronous' Radio Being Bade by Victor Talking Machine Company

The "micro-synchronous" radio, heralded as the latest and one of the most sensational refinements in the radio field, is being presented to the public this week by the Victor Talking Machine Company.

Formal introduction of the new creation in radio production is being made throughout the nation at this time. D. S. Pruitt, southeastern factory representative of the Victor Company, announced here Monday. "During this week Atlantans will be given demonstrations of the new instrument by dealers in all sections of the city," Mr. Pruitt stated.

"The micro-synchronous principle is the outgrowth of three years of experimentation carried on jointly in laboratories of the Victor Talking Machine Company and the Radio Corporation of America," the southeastern representative stated. "It is designed to extend the excellent radio reception, formerly attainable only over the central portion of the tuning dial, throughout the full length of the tuning dial."

"This effect is accomplished by automatically balanced moving tuning condensers. This device acts in such a way as to eliminate the unpleasant noises heretofore unavoidable in the upper and lower extremes of the tuning area. The elimination of unpleasant noises and perfection of sound reproduction is further aided in the new Victor radio by use of a specially constructed laminated cone speaker built into the machine."

"Other features of the 'micro-synchronous' radio is a super-automatic full vision tuning dial, which permits of automatic tuning of from one to 50 stations, visible at all times.

"Although the Victor company has distributed radios in connection with Victrolas for some time, the company celebrates its entrance into the radio field now for the first time with production of its own receiver. National radio week, set aside for the introduction of the micro-synchronous radio, marks Victor's contribution to the radio industry and to the public."

"Dealers throughout the country are co-operating through Victor radio week with the company in entering the radio field with its own product. The new instrument is available as a radio set alone, and in combination with an improved Electrola."

"The distinctive principle of the receiving set make it so simple that a child can operate it. Its many unique features include, for the first time in radio history, the application of micro-synchronous to radio; a super-automatic tuning control operating over a full-vision illuminated scale; an improved power amplifier, and a remarkable electro-dynamic speaker, all housed in a beautiful walnut console cabinet."

"At the snap of a switch, the combination instrument changes from radio to record, both being played through the Victor electro-dynamic speaker, which lends new beauty, depth and realism to musical reproduction. Its richness of tone and simplicity of operation have aroused delighted comments from those who saw and heard the finished product. Particularly pleasing were the clarity of radio reception and faithful rendition of vocal and orchestral recordings."

U. S. S. MAYFLOWER STRICKEN OFF ROLL; TO BE AUCTIONED

Washington, July 15.—(AP)—The U. S. S. Mayflower, a 1, 8, 8, Mayflower, at the end of the navy's daily report of ship movements today occurred the brief notation that the presidential yacht had been stricken from the rolls of the navy.

The dismantled ship, which is now at the Philadelphia navy yard, is shortly to be advertised for sale and delivered to the highest bidder, just like any boat which has outlived its usefulness. Shortly after entering office President Hoover decided not to use the Mayflower.

SHILKRET WILL DIRECT FIRST VICTOR FEATURE

Newest Recorded Hits by Famous Exclusive Artists in Series.

When the Victor Talking Machine division of the R. C. A. launches its new series of all-dance music programs over WSB and the coast-to-coast network of the N. B. C. at 6:30 o'clock Thursday evening, July 18, Nat Shilkret will direct the baton and his Victor orchestra will play a half hour group of their newest popular dance hits just recorded in the Victor studios.

This initial broadcast will mark the debut of a series of 12 of the most varied dance entertainments ever put on the air. Each program will feature a different orchestra and an exclusive Victor artist. Included in the first group of tunes on July 18, will be "Feathering a Nest for a Blue Bird," a number specially arranged by Shilkret with that typical individuality which has made this Victor maestro an international figure. Two other highlights of the evening will be "Singin' in the Rain" and "Am I Blue," which were likewise specially arranged and recorded by the Victor orchestra.

Because of his distinct personality Shilkret is not only one of the most versatile impresarios of the Victor recording studios, but one of the leading favorites of the microphone. Beginning his musical career at the age of 7, Shilkret has been a member of the leading symphonic orchestras in this country and abroad. In spite of this classic background, however, the Victor director has never lost interest in the lighter and more popular forms of music.

The complete first program comprises:

1. "Hittin' the Cello"
2. "Broadway Baby Doll"
3. "Lonesome Road"
4. "Singin' in the Rain"
5. "Am I Blue"
6. "Feathering a Nest for a Blue Bird"
7. "Pagan Love Song—Waltz"
8. "La Paloma—Tango—Fox Trot"
9. "Wake Up, Cullin"

This series of 12 Victor broadcasts will be heard each Thursday evening from July 18 to October 3, inclusive.

Dr. Hughes, who is a past president of the Masonic Club, will tell members of the local Civitan organization the activities sponsored by his club in aiding the crippled children.

THREE MEN KILLED, SEVERAL INJURED, IN 2 TRAIN WRECKS

Two men were perhaps fatally injured and seven others badly hurt in the other accident, when a Chicago and Northwestern passenger train crashed through a wooden trestle and fell into a creek near Princeton.

ASHLEY-WHITNER WEDDING IS SET FOR SATURDAY, AUG. 3

North Avenue Presbyterian Church To Provide Setting

Among the loveliest of the midsummer wedding ceremonies will be that uniting Miss Lillian Dunham Ashley, beautiful young daughter of Mrs. Henry Percy Ashley, and Charles Frank Whitner, Jr., which will be fashionably solemnized at high noon Saturday, August 3, at the North Avenue Presbyterian church. Dr. Richard Orme Flynn, pastor of the church, will read the marriage service in the presence of an assemblage of friends and relatives.

The ushers will be Dr. Marion Hull, Whitner Howard, B. C. Milner and Dr. De Los Hill.

Mrs. Benjamin Milner will act as the bride-elect's matron of honor and only attendant. Little Miss Elaine Sims Hurt, small daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Hurt, will be the dainty flower girl.

Mr. Whitner will be attended by his brother, John Whitner, as his best man. The lovely bride-elect will be given in marriage by her cousin, John Ashley Jones.

Immediately following the ceremony Mr. Whitner and his bride will leave for a wedding journey, including the fashionable mountain resorts of North Carolina. Upon their return they will take possession of their apartment in the Pallas on Peachtree road.

Following the rehearsal of the marriage Friday evening, August 2, Mrs. Edward Demere, cousin of the bride-elect, will entertain the members of the wedding party at a buffet supper at her home on Fourteenth street.

Miss Dora Mendes Is Prominent Visitor.

Miss Dora S. Mendes, popular Woman's Club editor of the Savannah Press, spent Monday in Atlanta en route to Savannah from Mackinac Island, Mich., where she was numbered among the prominent southern women attending the national convention of Business and Professional Women's Club.

The following comment relative to Miss Mendes' presence at the convention is taken from the widely-read column known as "The Chatter Box" from the Sunday, July 14, edition of the Augusta Chronicle:

"Outstanding among the Georgia women at the convention seems to have been Miss Dora S. Mendes, of the Savannah Press, whose address was 'Climbing the Newspaper Ladder.' In her talk she said, 'Learn to eliminate self. Feature the subject instead of yourself, cultivate a pleasing personality, learn to read human nature, be accurate, be willing to help others, learn to distinguish news, build up reputation for reliability, never fall down on an assignment, experience the thrill of running down an elusive story. Above all, love the newspaper work for in nothing else one may feel the joy of their work.'"

"Now Miss Mendes could have told the contributors never to begin their stories of meetings with 'The So-and-So club held its regular monthly meeting yesterday,' but to give the high lights in the first line, viz., 'The So-and-So club at its meeting yesterday, unanimously elected Mrs. Giverson Jones, president, etc.' The So-and-So club at its meeting in Whoopee hall yesterday, unanimously endorsed a resolution that would banish from the city every male opponent of its activities." She might have told them that it is not news when the society holds a meeting; but the important business transacted at that meeting is news.

Miss Buchanan Weds Mr. Statham.

The Rev. Anthony Hearn performed the ceremony.

Immediately after the ceremony the bride and groom left for a short wedding trip, after which they will make their home in Detroit, Mich.

The bride wore a dark blue ensemble with eggshell-colored accessories. She is a member of the 1929 graduating class of Converse college, Spartanburg, S. C., where she made a splendid record. She is a member of the Theta Chi Delta, honorary chemical fraternity.

The groom is the son of the late Dr. and Mrs. Statham, of Americus. He attended Georgia university and was a member of the Theta Kappa Mu fraternity. He is now connected with the Vernon Gingenale Company, Detroit, Mich.

TARIFF BOARD HEARS APPEAL OF FILIPINOS

Washington, July 15.—(AP)—Statistics and technical data were shunted aside by members of the senate finance committee at its tariff hearings today as a youthful appearing Filipino—thrusting his head and shoulders forward—pleaded for freedom of the Philippines. He was Manuel Roxas, speaker of a house of representatives of the Philippine legislative commission, sent to country to protest the placing of import duties or restrictions on goods from the archipelago entering the United States.

Roxas objected particularly to testimony by John M. Switzer, of New York, representing the Philippine-American Chamber of Commerce, that the Filipinos wanted independence as a principal but were praying they would not get it. "These words were used by Chairman Snout and Switzer agreed that was the case."

In clear English, Roxas denounced this thought and declared the Filipinos were for independence, "not only on a principle, not only because it is a natural yearning of a people to be free, but because we sincerely believe that only in freedom will we be able to work out our destinies."

"We love freedom," he emphasized as tears rolled down his cheeks and as the eyes of some committee members filled.

"While we are grateful for what if you are offered a substitute for BIG BOY the merchant must be making more on it."

OUR CLUB—By Seckatary Hawkins

LISTEN, CLARENCE! IF YOU WANT TO GET JACK HOWARD, YOU'VE GOT TO GET SIX MORE FELLOWS. CAUSE THOSE BROTHERS WILL STICK TOGETHER.

ON MY WAY DOWN TO OUR TENT I MET CLARENCE. HE SAID, "HAWKINS, HE SAID, 'DID YOU FIGHT THAT JACK HOWARD FOR ME?' I SAID, 'NO, AND I'M NOT GOING TO BECAUSE HE HAS SIX BROTHERS.' GEE! CLARENCE WAS DISAPPOINTED."

WE WALKED RIGHT INTO OUR TENT, GEE WHIZ! YOU SHOULD'VE HEARD CLARENCE YELL AND SEE HIM RUN. THE SEVEN HOWARD BROTHERS WERE IN THE TENT, TALKING TO JERRY MOORE. JACK STARTED AFTER CLARENCE AND I GRABBED HIM.

JACK TURNED AND LOOKED AT ME. THEN HE GAVE ME A FINE PUNCH IN THE EYE. BELIEVE ME I WON'T FORGET THAT PUNCH SO SOON. JERRY MOORE SAW JACK HIT ME, SO JERRY JUMPED ON JACK.

BURGESS CHILDREN'S STORIES

PETER GETS A WARNING.

BY THORNTON W. BURGESS.

You'll find it best to never yearn for that which does not you concern.

—Old Mother Nature.

Peter Rabbit was a little provoked. Peter is just like everybody else—he does get provoked sometimes. He was provoked now because Mrs. Bob White wouldn't tell him where her baby Bob White had all disappeared to. Peter wouldn't have minded this so much had it not been that he had caught just a glimpse of a number of those babies, and then, while his head was turned, they had disappeared. So he knew that they must be right around very near. They hadn't flown away, because they couldn't fly. They were too little to have gone very far.

"Mrs. Bob, you may as well tell me now as by and by where those babies are," said Peter. "You know that I know they are right around here somewhere."

"Are they?" inquired Mrs. Bob, as if she were very much surprised at the information.

"Yes, they are," snapped Peter.

"If you know so much about it, Peter, why ask me?" continued Mrs. Bob, and began to preen her feathers.

Peter stamped angrily. When Peter stamps, he stamps hard. Mrs. Bob looked at him anxiously. "But Mrs. Bob, didn't you get out of Peter's way. She squatted down just a little way in front of him, just where, if he should hop, he would land right on her. Peter turned and suddenly hopped off to one side. As he did so Mrs. Bob White actually flew in his face. "Stop, Peter," she cried. "Stop right where you are! Don't you dare move!" she cried.

Peter blinked. "Now what is it?" he demanded.

"Look right down at your feet," commanded Mrs. Bob.

Peter looked down at his feet. At first he didn't see anything but the earth and the grass, some of the latter green, and down around the roots some of it dead. Just as he opened his mouth to say that he didn't see anything he did see something. Flat-topped right down to the ground, so near his toes that they almost touched him, was a funny bird—a little like a brown baby. It was one of Bob White's babies. Do you wonder that Mrs. Bob was anxious when Peter began to move about?

The next story: "Peter watches a Queen Game."

JUNE TRADE BALANCE DECLARED FAVORABLE

Washington, July 15.—(United News.)—Despite threats of foreign nations that they would buy goods elsewhere if the United States enacted a new high protective tariff law, exports for June totaled $397,000,000, resulting in a favorable trade balance of $45,000,000 for the month.

Imports from 25 foreign nations on the tariff measure now before the senate finance committee apparently had little, if any, effect on America's foreign trade last month. Exports during June were greater for this particular month than since 1920 and imports aggregated $352,000,000.

The favorable trade balance announced by the commerce department was in sharp contrast with May statistics when for the first time in three years an unfavorable balance of $14,000,000 was reported.

Judge Landis Awards Giard to Washington; Parham's Two Home Runs Beat Barons, 9-6

ASSIGNMENT TO CRACKERS HELD ILLEGAL

Commissioner Says Majors May Not Transfer Indirectly in Minors

By Ralph McGill.
Clark Griffith, the Old Fox of Washington Square, was leading 1 to 0 Monday afternoon at the end of the first inning of the legal baseball game with Rell J. Spiller, the plaintiff of Ponce de Leon avenue.

Joe Giard, the left-handed pitcher, was awarded to Washington at the end of the inning.
Dr. J. T. Selman, pinch-hitting for the plaintiff of Ponce de Leon, struck out after St. Paul and San Antonio had already gone the way of three strikes.

The game was played in Landis park at Chicago with Commissioner Landis himself as the umpire.
At the end of the legal inning, when all the legal appeals had been pitched, the judge simply said that Joe Giard belonged to Washington.

DEAL ILLEGAL.
Landis, ruled that the entire deal was illegal. Giard was sent to Atlanta by St. Paul in exchange for a pitcher from Washington, one Archie Campbell. The ruling was that a major league club cannot transfer players indirectly from one minor league club to another. The deal was, Judge Landis ruled, between Washington and St. Paul, and not between St. Paul and Atlanta.

The judge simply said that Giard would become the property of Washington. They sent him on to San Antonio, the place he refused to report to in June.
The other boys all said, "All right, judge," and went out to fix to go home.
There was nothing else for them to do unless they went to a place and had things.

NEXT INNING.
The next inning will be played at a later date at Washington. Judge Landis will not be the umpire. There will be a man on the bench who uses precedent and law to fix his decisions. Attorney Leonard Haas will be pitching for President Spiller. No deal has been set. It will be some time, however, before the deal is made.
The Giard case was an aftermath of the sale of the Cracker club to Washington—born June 5, died June 11.

THE DEAL.
On June 5 Clark Griffith bought the club stock and property. On June 10 Joe Engel, Washington owner, who was to be president, arrived with Eddie Egan, secretary of the Washington club. They were to arrange things preparatory to taking over the club at 6 p. m. June 12 as per the contract. Joe Giard, a St. Paul pitcher, and Stuffy Stewart, second baseman, were assigned to the Cracker club.
At 4-15 June 11 the sale was called off from Washington by Clark Griffith.

Stuffy Stewart was held at Washington. Clark Griffith, who was the way from St. Paul, could not be caught by wire. He arrived in Atlanta. There was a wire at the office telling him to go to St. Paul. Giard refused to go. His papers assigned him to Atlanta.

GIARD SIGNS.
He had never belonged to Washington. President John D. Martin, of the Southern league, said the papers permitted Atlanta to sign him. A wire to Secretary Farrell, of the National association, brought the reply, "Who objects to your signing him?"

Giard was signed and pitched in one game. Washington then protested. Judge Landis ruled Giard off the squad. Officials of the clubs concerned were summoned to Chicago for the meeting.
The judge evidently went into the intent in the case. Washington had never owned the pitcher. The deal was an outright release to Atlanta and nothing else so far as the papers were concerned.

The judge, however, goes into matters that a court of law will not touch.
THE SUND CASE.
When Heine Sand uncovered Jimmy O'Connell's overtures in a little matter of "friendly" playing the judge decided which way he was going. "Having a little fun" and which were guilty of staining the escutcheon of the national game. The players who were "just fooling around and kidding" were valuable players belonging largely to the Giants.

When the courts found that Benny Knutt was not guilty of stealing an automobile the judge refused to let him return to baseball.

The only time the judge has been forced was in the matter of Ty Cobb and Tris Speaker. They were whiskered out of baseball because of some letters alleged to have been written to a left-handed pitcher. The judge said the affair was no concern of his.

The judge, however, had an ear to the ground. There was such a caterwauling about the land that he solemnly called a meeting and read the two stars right back into the ball game.
When dealing with the minors the judge rarely comments. All he can do is mutter in their hearing and wait for the next inning with Clark Griffith.

Veteran Pitcher Is Given Release
Indianapolis, July 15.—(United News.)—Rob Russell, veteran major and minor league ball player, was given his outright release today by the Indianapolis American Association club. Russell, who formerly pitched for the Chicago White Sox, has been with the local club as pitcher and outfielder for several years.

Ed Danforth

Joe Tinker (to Evers to Chance) gave out an interview in New York the other day that landed another blow at the belief that old-time ball players were superior to the modern.
Joe is an old-timer and apparently has not let the mellowing processes of age soften his mentality. Joe has kept step with the world instead of pausing on the hilltop and losing himself in rapt admiration of The Things That Were.
Joe was talking to John Kieran, of the New York Times, and in answer to the question he said: "Certainly I think ball players are improving. . . . Modern pitchers, for instance, are better than the old-timers. . . . These birds out there now are working under a big handicap, what with the rules against trick deliveries and being handed a new white ball on almost every other pitch. Just give them the leeway the old boys had and you'd see pitching that is pitching. . . . The magnates handicapped modern pitchers. They wanted more hitting. . . . Why when Old Tom Hughes was handed a new ball, he would rub tobacco juice over it until it was black. . . . Bedient used to have a big patch of glue on his uniform, dusted with emery. . . . he'd make the ball dance a jig up to the plate. . . . Russ Ford had an emery patch on his glove. . . . All of them had tricks of some sort. . . . Now they throw out a new ball as soon as it has a scratch on it."

I always hated to think that old-time pitchers were so far superior to those of this era. Probably that comes from not having seen many of the ancient performers. However, the dictum of Tinker as to the steady improvement in the skill of players is pleasant to read.

IN THE BAG.

From the prints in Birmingham one reads of a golf shot for the book. Hugh Morrow, playing in the state championship, hooked his tee shot on No. 14 and the ball rolled inside a gunny sack at the edge of the rough. He elected to play it—and spoiled a good story by requiring two hacks with a niblick to get it out. He should have played sack and all to the green, holed out a birdie and become famous.

Walter F. Cox sends in a clipping concerning the injury to a University of Southern California football star while playing in a film football game at Hollywood and comments:

"If my memory is not a liar, there were many articles from California last fall about the tremendous strength and iron constitutions of California football players. It also was intimated that players from the south might be too frail to cope with these giants. How about it?"

Might aid for the benefit of the injured athlete that the best way to get hurt playing football is in a scrimmage or a sham battle. More men are injured per hour of scrimmage than per hour of actual play. In practice men unconsciously save themselves. They favor a sore leg. They try to fall easily. They tackle their teammates on the scrub a bit lightly. The result of all this sparing of play is to tighten muscles that should be loose. The result is more injuries.

THE JINX WORKOUT.

Coaches dread the last scrimmage of the week before an important game. They have grown pessimistic through years of seeing things happen to important legs and skulls.

However, players are thinking about the play itself in a game. They forget they have legs and ribs that might get broken. They dive and fall and run with abandon and rarely get hurt doing it. The inspiration of competition lifts them above the hazards of play.
I imagine making a movie football game is the height of infirmity.

LEARNING SLOWLY.

Mr. Cox is correct about the superstition prevalent on the west coast that their athletes are bigger and stronger and more skillful than the men of any other section. That belief persists, in spite of several lessons administered by athletes from other sections in football and in golf, particularly.

This state of sectional mind can be blamed partly on the Rocky Mountains, the desert and the price of railroad transportation. The west coast for these reasons is isolated to an extent. And isolation does not broaden the viewpoint.

Now that southern football teams are going to the coast every so often and demonstrating that football is not a matter of geography, the old superstition is losing some of its potency. It may entirely disappear within, say, the next 100 years.

And in the matter of golf, the broadening of the west coast mind may be furthered when several of the better known golfers this side the Rockies go to Pebble Beach to meet the vast army of the unfettered Native Sons in September.

TRUE STORIES NO. 6.

Overheard in Hanjaro's coffee shop: "I just can't get no breaks in this town. I been here two weeks and finely meet a girl and she makes a date to meet me at the corner of Peachtree and Harris and I go out there in my car and there she is all waiting and she starts out to get in the car with me and a car coming down Peachtree hits her and knocks her cold. I had to take her clear down to Grady hospital, too."

Williams Races Again Saturday

Seattle, Wash., July 15.—(United News.)—Percy Williams, Olympic champion, meets his leading American rivals again here next Saturday, July 20, in a meet under the auspices of the University of Washington. Williams defeated Eddie Tolan, colored Michigan sprinter, Frank Wykoff and Claude Bracey at Vancouver Saturday, winning the final heat of the 100-yard dash in 9.4-5 seconds. He equaled the official world record of 9.3-4 seconds in a trial heat.

South Orange, N. J., July 15.—(AP) Harvard and Yale tennis players tackle a combined team from Oxford and Cambridge university at Newport, R. I., Thursday, Friday and Saturday. The invaders promise trouble for the New Englanders, for they flashed unexpected strength in overwhelming Princeton and Williams, in a two-day match which ended here yesterday. They won by a score of 16 matches to five and in doing so gave a thorough demonstration of their ability to account for themselves on almost any court. One of their outstanding players strangely enough is an American, E. O. Mather. He comes from Texas.

MALINI SEEKS VICTORY OVER TED TONIGHT

Orleanian Meets Goodrich in Headliner at Atlanta Theater.

Determined to put Ted Goodrich away, Grover Mallini quit training yesterday afternoon in perfect shape for the fight tonight at the Atlanta theater at 8:30 o'clock.

The New Orleans middleweight has shown enough form in his workouts here to justify the almost even odds which prevail on his fight with Goodrich. Goodrich has lost only to Jack Britton in Atlanta, and is a favorite with local fight fans.

This match, over the 10-round route, is the headliner of a five-card bout which will be offered tonight.

While the semi-windup brings together "Silent" Frank Moran, of New Haven, Conn., and Young Jack Dempsey, the boy from the country who made good in the city, perhaps more interest centers in the appearance of Bull Irwin.

IRWIN MAKES DEBUT.

Irwin is a former Georgia Tech football player who is making a professional debut tonight. He is an amateur fighter of promise and intends seeing what he can do in the ring. He will meet Jimmy McDuffie in a 6-round match.

Irwin was an end at Tech. His reputation of possessing a fighting heart and ability to give and take punishment on the gridiron has made him a good fighting man. He has had enough training to believe that he can make a go of the professional game.

Wally Eskew, the Nashville battler, will also appear on the card in one of the 6-round preliminaries. He meets Johnnie Richie. Eskew has fought here several times and is another favorite. The ring fans like him because he always fights. They are welters.

CLINE TO GO.

Irish Brannon fights Cline in another bout. Eddie Hanlon, matchmaker, may add another fight. If he does it will feature Joe Heath and Spud Meyers.

The program, offering many new faces and fighters with reputations, is the best Hanlon has presented to Atlanta.

"If the fans are not satisfied with this card they can have their money back. I know it is a good card," said Hanlon.

The box office at the Atlanta theater, where the fights are to be held, will be open a day today in order for the 15 holes, three strokes under par, was four strokes better than her nearest rival, Mrs. O. S. Hill, of Kansas City, the defending champion.

Paired together for the first day of the annual trans-Mississippi golf tournament here today, Miss Turpie's 79 for the 18 holes, three strokes under par, was four strokes better than her nearest rival, Mrs. O. S. Hill, of Kansas City, the defending champion.

LOPEZ, HALEY EJECTED FROM GAME IN 9TH

Crackers Score Four in Ninth To Cop Fifth Straight.

Birmingham, Ala., July 15. (Special.)—Bob Parham and his bat made today a dismal one for Birmingham's Barons.

The Barons, leading the league at present but not feeling any too confident, were on the safe end of a 6-to-3 score in the seventh inning of this afternoon's opener with Atlanta when young Parham caused them to go haywire, commit a fatal error while Atlanta scored two runs in the eighth and four in the ninth inning to win the game by 9 to 6.

Young Robert knocked two home runs and got a single out of four times up while on his jag and the Crackers won their fifth straight ball game.

Up until that eighth inning started, Atlanta's pitching had been anything but the and the Barons had made merry. Brennan had been terrible and Rauch, who succeeded him, was—for a short space—worse when he walked in two runs.

LOPEZ, HALEY CHASED.
Al Lopez got into an argument in the ninth inning with the umpire and was chased. Along with him went Frank Haley, who took part in the debate. Stuffy Stewart injured his leg sliding into third base in the third inning and will be out for a spell.

Birmingham has five more games to play with Atlanta, one more here tomorrow and then four in Atlanta. The situation looks very bad for Birmingham.

EXCHANGE.
The Barons and Crackers exchanged courtesies in the first inning. Sheehan walked and went to third on Parham's single to right. Cullop fanned for the fifth consecutive time at Rickwood before Haas. Smith booted Lopez's grounder and Sheehan scored.

Sturdy dropped a hit between Silva and Jones. Stewart beat out a bunt in front of the plate and Sturdy went to third when Lopez threw low to first. Andy Moore hit into a double play. Sturdy scored.

Smith's single past short and Yarnan's looping double to right gave the Barons a run in the second. Burrus cut off a second out when he came up with Haas's steaming grounder.

Atlanta tied the score and the Barons lost the services of Stewart for the remainder of the game. Sheehan singled to deep center and went to third on Clabough's error. Parham lined to Moore and Sheehan scored after the third inning.

STUFFY HURT.
Birmingham got Brennan out in their half of the third and would have scored had Stewart not wrenched his knee turning third. Stewart singled to right and went to second on Moore's out. Clabough singled to deep center and Stewart fell at third. Burrus being out, Clabough to Sheehan. Brennan walked. Smith and Goodrich pulled him. Haas served Yarnan three wide ones and then made him hit one back to him.

The Barons pitched a two-out lead in the fourth. Haas walked and Sturdy shot a home run between the wings of the republican party in right.

The Crackers got out and earned a run in the sixth and lost ground when Rauch walked two Barons across the plate. Clabough broke his slump by beating out a hit down the third base line. Burrus walked and Lopez's single to center scored Cullop.

Andy Moore doubled to right and with two gone Rauch hit Clabough and walked Smith. Yarnan and Clayton scored.

RAUCH GETS RIGHT.
Bill Rauch got right in the seventh. He only walked one batter, Sturdy. Clabough singled to center. Clabough threatened to tie the score in the eighth. Bob Parham hammered a home run into right. Burrus singled to center and Lopez walked. Haley singled to right, scoring Burrus. Jones

Tilden, Hunter, Allison, Van Ryn To Meet German Cup Team

Inter-Zone Final Opens This Week

Matches To Be Played in Berlin—America's Four Combines Youth and Experience.

By Frank Getty.
United News Sports Editor.

New York, July 15.—A combination of youth and age, of dash and experience, will represent the United States in the interzone final of Davis cup play against Germany at Berlin this week.

To those two reliable veterans of tennis, William T. Tilden II and Francis T. Hunter, who will play in the singles matches, the selection committee has added the pep and power of the Wimbledon doubles champions, Milner Allison and John Van Ryn.

OAKLAND CITY SLUGGERS LEAD

Individual and Team Honors Go to Baptist in Y-Church Race.

Though falling short of winning the first half of the Sewanee league race, yielding this honor to the J. O. Y. Class of Central Baptist, Oakland City Baptist proved the way in hitting according to averages released Monday. The leaders are pounding the ball for a .341 average, 21 points above the winners. Of the five leagues sponsored by the Y-Church Athletic Association this one contains the greatest number of the select hitters.

Of the players who have participated in all games Camp, of Oakland City, is leading the loop with an average of .500 and has secured the greatest number of hits. James, of Hale Class, has scored the greatest number of runs and is leading in extra base hits with eight doubles, four triples and one home run. Robertson, of J. O. Y. Class, and Camp, of Oakland City, are tied for home run honors with three apiece. Stone, of Yomela-Peps, has been charged with more time at bat than any other player.

The team averages and the records of all players appearing 10 or more times at bat who are hitting better than .250 follow.

Clayton saw it was "Thuren"—quite close now, beside him. He heard a cackling laugh, something touched his face—and he lost consciousness. With a scream of triumph, the half-crazed coward seized the precious water supply and glistening drained the jug to its last life-giving drop.

Hours afterward, when Clayton regained his senses, he found himself wet through by torrents of rain falling upon his body and upturned face. A heavy tropical shower was beating down upon him. It had revived the girl also. As he staggered to his feet, he gave a little cry of joy.

Jane looked and there, not a hundred yards away, was a yellow beach, and beyond, the luxurious foliage of a tropical jungle. Even now the boat was scraping gently upon the sandy bottom. With their remaining strength the three castaways stumbled ashore. Here, exhausted, they threw themselves down to rest, sleeping until dark.

On this same glorious tropical morning far inland, Tarzan and his warriors drove their cannibal captives out of his new kingdom, making them pledge they would never again molest his people. Upon his return, he began preparations for leading an expedition in search of the ruined City of Gold, which old Waziri had described to him.
